Navigating HOA Sales: A Guide for Realtors, Boards & Managers

Selling within an HOA or condo community comes with its own rules - and opportunities.

This luncheon brings together a realtor, closing attorney, and community association manager to break down what realtors must know, common pitfalls to avoid, and how to streamline the process for buyers, sellers, and associations alike.

Perfect for real estate professionals as well as HOA/Condo board members, community association managers, and business partners working with community associations.
